

An Introduction to Procurement

ABOUT THE TRAINING

This training introduces key procurement topics with a taster of some of the content that you can expect to cover in the Advance Certificate or Diploma Level for the Chartered Institute of Purchasing and Supply. This one day course includes:

DELIVERY

This course can be delivered in the classroom or at your workplace if you have 8 or more delegates allowing us to deliver a more bespoke experience which can be scaled up to allow additional support if this would benefit your organisation.

The delivery will be interactive, with work book style course material to accompany the presentation from the course facilitator.

At the end of the course, participants will be given a certificate confirming their learning.

This course brings more detail when delivered over the full two days.

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

This course would suit non procurement professionals who wish to gain an understanding of the function, new recruits to the procurement profession and those considering embarking on a CIPS journey. This course would be relevant to all sectors.

ABOUT THE TRAINER

Vickie Vincent is an experienced Category Manager and Procurement Manager with recent industry experience. Whilst Vickie loves to deliver the theory behind procurement technologies, she believes that real value is created when training participants are given practical tools and ideas which can be applied to the workplace. To follow this up, Vickie also offers Procurement Mentoring in order to make sure that implementation of learning is fully understood allowing organisations to release the full value of training investments.
